Annual Appeal 2020-2021: Improvise, Adapt, & Transform

Due to COVID-19, this past year has been a difficult one for many families. McCord Memorial Library closed for a number of months and we are still operating under restrictions. Though the majority of our funding comes from tax dollars, we must also raise funds each year in order to continue serving the community as we do.

McCord Memorial Library appreciates the past support the North East community has given to the library, and we now ask you to support the 2020-2021 annual appeal.

Any contribution you make will assure the continued excellence of McCord Memorial Library in the future and is very much appreciated.

Thank you!

Highlights from Days gone by...

stories from McCord Library's Historical files

"The Candy Store"

(Note: this story is from a series of stories set around the early 1900s taken from our oral histories collection)

"Pease's Emporium located where the Concord Pharmacy is now was my favorite spot. The toys and story books were there to be sure by the candy counter along the west side of the store well up front captured my attention with eager eyes. Licorice whips with woven handles, belts studded with pink, white, yellow button trim and buttons made like mother used to sew our clothes, holes in the center for thread to pass through. The sugar spun candies fashioned in many shapes very likely these with parasols, pony carts, express wagons, dogs, cats, Indians, cowboys. All colored in colors suitable to melt in one's mouth. The fat chocolates with creamy centers looked like a chocolate covered hill. The tiny pans with the creamy mixture and the tiny spoon so one could get out every bit. The peppermint, anise, and lemon drops were never a first choice. The pennies carefully saved for such treats were wisely spent and the time selecting the goodies was a highlight of the day."

Written and taped by Julia Trout Long (Mrs. Irving) for Ruthanna Walter, September 6, 1975.

McCord Memorial Library's historical files are full of interesting information. Make an appointment to check out some of the unique bits of local history on file.
